

Flashcards

SHOULD

- ✓ Contain key information (check with your teachers)
- ✓ Be part of a regular revision programme
- ✓ The level of detail should be tailored to your subject/tier
- ✓ Use to replicate exam style questions and more importantly, your answers
- ✓ Be tracked – the Leitner Box method is the most effective way of doing this

Flashcards

SHOULD NOT

- ✓ Have too much or too little information – only you know the relevant information
- ✓ Be your only form of revision, they should allow you to identify gaps that you can then use other resources to support
- ✓ Be used as a cramming method
