

How to improve your Science grade – Use a combination of the following, the magnificent 7!

	What you can do	How to get it
1	 A website that contains past paper questions on all topics. You can choose what you want to work on and it will mark your work for you.	Ask your teacher if you don't have your login.
2	 Contains lots of questions to test your knowledge and understanding.	Download the free app and sign up yourself.
3	 Complete supervised revision/homework with a member of staff on hand to answer any questions	After school Thursday S1. If you can't make this, sort out another time with your teacher.
4	 These have the spec points which cover everything you need to know and recall questions to test your knowledge. All answers are on quizlet (search user: SammyMcKeever).	Ask your teacher if you don't have them.
5	 All content is on BBC bitesize with videos, quizzes and exam questions.	Go online and search BBC bitesize. Make sure you click on the correct course (course details are below).
6	 Use specific flashcards on Quizlet set up by your teachers to make sure what you are revising is relevant. You can print these so you don't waste time making your own. Complete tests or games to practice recall.	Search for the following teacher usernames to get specific content: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Biology AND all recall question answers: SammyMcKeever</li> <li>- Chemistry: djhardy123, mrs_eds</li> <li>- Physics: MrChewitt</li> </ul>
7	Revision guides - Use your revision guide the old-fashioned way! <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Make flashcards and test yourself or get someone to test you.</li> <li>- Do the exam questions and mark them.</li> <li>- Condense your notes and see how much you can remember by doing "look, cover, write, check"</li> <li>- Reading through your revision guide is NOT revision.</li> </ul>	Buy a revision guide on Parentpay. Deadline is 28th February.
